Obituary.

Died, August 29th, 1884, little Bernice, infant daughter of Herchel B. and Ellen O. Taylor. She was born June 7th. 1882, and for a little more that two years, had grown upon the love of doting parents. For five weeks the frail little life fought back the grim angel, but in spite of all that medical skill or parental love could accomplish the infant spirit would wing its flight to the bright domain of Him who gave it. I will not ask the mother not to weep, for that would sound like a mockery of her grief; I will not say to the father, staunch the tears that flow from eyes that burn with grief, but I will say to their grief stricken hearts, try to rememb.r that while little Bernice sleeps beside her baby sister on the green hillside, thy two are safe home in that land of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me.'
